ONLY ONE.

The Record in Hopkinsville
Is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Hopkinsville citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

J. W. Pritchett, 752 E. Seventh Street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "Four years ago Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at L. A. Johnson & Co's. drug store brought me such great relief that I was glad to tell the people of Hopkinsville my experience with the remedy. Before using them, pains existed through my kidneys and in the back, which caused me a great deal of annoyance. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised so highly that I concluded to try them. They proved to be an excellent remedy, relieving me of the aching in my back and helping me in other ways. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am sure if people who have kidney trouble will use them according to directions they will be satisfied with the results obtained."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Soundness of Judgment.

The Courier-Journal of last Saturday had the following editorial on the purchase of a new home for the Kentucky State Fair:

"In the selection of Douglas Park as the permanent State Fair grounds, the State Board of Agriculture has acted with a soundness of judgment that will be appreciated by those most familiar with the difficulties and conditions that confronted it. A dozen sites were considered by the Board, but most of them were thought to be inconveniently located, while Douglas Park already has ample street car facilities for handling as many people as might desire to attend the fair. It is estimated that the selection of unimproved property would have made it necessary for the State Fair Commission to expend many thousands of dollars for temporary buildings for this year and next year. With a good trotting track, a handsome grand stand, plenty of stable room and adequate street car and railroad switching facilities at Douglas Park, and with the splendid agricultural and live stock resources of Kentucky, the State Fair (Commission is ready at the very beginning to compete with the most successful fairs in the States of the Central west."

A Few Left.

We still have left about 40 copies of MEACHAM'S CITY DIRECTORY of Hopkinsville for 1907, which will be sold while they last at $1 each. It has been eight years since the last directory was issued and the new one will have to be used for several years. Business men who have not supplied themselves, should act promptly if they want one.

DECORATED AMERICANS

Surely Americans cannot complain at the lack of honors which foreign countries and societies are bestowing upon citizens of the United States for noteworthy achievements and distinguishing services. And while there is no undisciplined eagerness on the part of Americans for medals and decorations, there is still a warranted pride in receiving such marks of distinction. The already long list of those who have been thus honored is growing apace, and if all whose names appear there were to form a society of decorated Americans it would start out with a membership far in excess of that with which most organizations begin.

Such a society would not be in much favor with intensely democratic Americans who have been wont to regard decorations almost in the category of bribes, but such feeling is surely without warrant and is growing less each year. Said Count Cassini on this point not long before he left America for Spain: "I have received 32 decorations, and can it be possible that according to the old notion, I have been bribed 32 times? I have recommended the bestowal of many decorations, but they were given in recognition of favors rendered without a thought of a return. Indeed, I have many times during my life been very glad that I could make use of such orders. Men have done me very kind and substantial favors. I could not in honor offer them $100 or $500. They would have been insulted by such a crude form of gratitude. The only recourse at my command was to give a decoration or a gold snuffbox. The latter the recipient would never use and could find little pleasure in, so I have chosen to give the decorations where I could."

Congress has but twice in 20 years given its consent for officers of the government to accept decorations that have been tendered them. Furthermore, it is the law that all decorations that foreign governments may wish to give to American officials must be deposited with the state department until the question whether they may be accepted or not is decided.

Thus it is that there is a beautiful order in gold of Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor lying in the vaults of the state department for Gen. Chaffee. Some time congress may allow him to receive it. The time may come when, as Admiral McCalla last March, he lies on what his tearful family or dearest friends think is his deathbed. Or it may happen that even then the desired permission will be withheld, and only after the brave old soldier is dead and gone will the decoration pass to the hands of his wife and children. To whom it will be a treasured testimony to the worth of the man whom it was intended to honor. And yet if the order were to be allowed to be given to Gen. Chaffee he could not wear it at other than the most public occasions. No officer of the army or navy nor any civil employee of the government is permitted by law to wear such an emblem of favor with a foreign potentate. This applies to the retired officer as well as those in active service.

Once in a long while an official has been chosen to get his decoration by mail in at least a portable evaslon of the law. Secretary H. H. D. Pierce last year, when he resigned his post of assistant secretary of the state department to accept the appointment as minister to Norway, spent a day in private life between the two positions, and in that choice interval took good care to call for his decorations, which had for years, in some cases, laid in the vaults of the department. Among them were the Order of the Double Dragon, conferred by the Chinese government, and the cross of a commander of the Legion of Honor.

In the same way William F. Willoughby formerly expert of the bureau of mines and lecturer on coal veins, now at Johns Hopkins and Harvard, stepped out of government employ a few days before accepting his appointment as treasurer of Porto Rico, and in that time got his medals out of official lock.

The number of legionnaires in this country has so increased of late years that the fact has justified Prof. James Howard Gore of George Washington university in preparing and publishing a directory of all who have received this honor.

The French statutes restrict the number of officers of the Legion of Honor to 4,000, of commanders to 1,000, of grand officers to 200, and of holders of the grand cross to 80. Gen. Chaffee has received probably the highest honor in the Legion of Honor in this country. Archbishop Ireland, Thomas A. Edison, Gen. O. O. Howard, Prof. George F. Barker and Perry Belmont wear the cross of a commander. Prof. Agassiz, Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, Andrew D. White, Prof. Simon Newcomb, James Hatten Hyde, M. E. Stone and Prof. John G. Reade wear the cross of an officer.

Among women in this country who have had the distinction of wearing the cross of the Legion of Honor is Mrs. Potter Palmer of Chicago, and Mrs. Daniel Manning, of Albany, who were thus honored for their services in connection with the exposition of 1893.

Among other orders given to Americans there are numerous decorations, such as the Order of Leopold, the Omaniak and Medjidieh of Turkey, the order of the Prussian Crown, the Red Eagle of Germany, the order of St. Stanislaus of Russia, the White Elephant of Siam, the order of Dannebrog of Denmark, and many similar decorations.

Probably F. J. V. Skiff, of the Field museum, of Chicago, has as many decorations as any one man in this country. He has made a collection, it might be said. They all came for his services at expositions. Mr. Skiff is an officer of the Legion of Honor for work connected with the Paris exposition of 1906. He has the order of Leopold, the order of Civil Merit of Bulgaria, has the second class order of the Dragon of China, the order of the Sacred Treasure of Japan, the order of Orange and Nassau of Holland, the order of the Sun and the Lion of Persia, the order of St. James of Portugal, and the Red Eagle of Germany.

Prof. Herman V. Hiprecht has numerous orders for his researches in ancient history. He wears the Cross of Albert, the Bear of Germany, the Cross of Dannebrog of Denmark, for his cuneiform investigations.

Prof. Simon Newcomb received last year the German Order pour le Merite. This is a distinctly great honor, as there are but 40 members of the order, and a new member is chosen by the survivors whenever death makes a vacancy. The decoration is given by the German emperor. Congress authorized Prof. Newcomb, who was in the navy, to accept the decoration.

One of the rarest decorations that have ever been tendered an American is the Star of Ethiopia, given by a former Mesquit to Robert P. Shuman, who was intrusted with the delicate mission of opening up treaty relations with Abyssinia. It is a large gold medal surrounded by a gold star with a fine, large turquoise in the center. A smaller but quite valuable gold decoration was also given to Capt. George C. Thorpe, of the marine corps, by King Menelik.

Longer on Throne Than Father. King Frederick of Denmark, presents the curious spectacle of a father who has become a king at a later date than his own son. When King Haakon of Norway, was lately at Copenhagen King Frederick is said to have asked him: "How do you like being king?" "I will rather ask you," replied Haakon. "I have been king longer than you have." Haakon was elected king of Norway by the storting on Nov. 18, 1895, while Frederick, his father, did not succeed to the throne of Denmark until Jan. 28, 1906, on the death of King Christian.

Railroad Commissioner C. C. McChord's Letter of Advice.

Frankfort, Ky., June 24, 1907.
TERRY COAL & COKE CO.,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

GENTLEMEN:

Replying to your favor of the 14th instant, I unhesitatingly advise all consumers of coal to lay in a supply during the summer months and thereby avoid the inconvenience which must result on account of a shortage of cars next winter which in my opinion will be much more acute than was the shortage of last winter, unless the consumers lay in their coal supply as suggested.

You are at liberty to publish this in the interest of the producers and consumers of coal.

Yours Very Truly,
C. C. McCHORD, Chairman,
R. R. Commission State of Ky.

The railroad and coal operating officials of Western Kentucky have given out the same official notice, and urge us to advise our stockholders, and customers to lay in their coal this summer.

Last winter's experience and high prices, together with the above timely information should be sufficient warning, and we trust our people will take advantage of it and act at once.

We are ready to supply you with coal in car load lots over either R. R. any day "the best coal at summer time prices," and trust that you will give us your orders early while we can get the cars to ship in.

Yours Very Truly,

The Weather.

FOR KENTUCKY—Partly cloudy Saturday.

The fate of the Democratic party in Kentucky is to be decided by the cast of the die in Louisville. To overthrow a party machine, organized and entrenched in every precinct, and build up a new machine in a hundred days with church people instead of politicians at the helm, is a big undertaking. If the "good people" in all parties help the reform movement, it will succeed, but if the Republicans slip into the Democratic breach and one faction throws its strength to them, it will mean a terrible disaster and defeat. The hesitation in making further appointments in Louisville indicates that the new mayor appreciates the gravity of the situation and will "go slow" and be sure he is right before he goes ahead. It must be borne in mind that it is the Democratic party that must be relied upon to elect the state ticket and not bolters and disorganizers. There are already loud claims being made by Republicans that the entire whiskey vote will be thrown to Wilson and that the Prohibition Republicans will also vote their ticket and give Wilson 20,000 majority in Louisville. Mayor Bingham should remember the story of the wooden horse and the destruction of ancient Troy.

Soldiers of the First Kentucky Regiment and a South Carolina Regiment in camp at Jamestown night to paint the "warpath" red Wednesday night and a fight ensued with the Powhattan Guards. Several on both sides were hurt, but none fatally. The soldiers undertook to make a round of the shows without paying.

Francis Murphy, the great temperance lecturer, died at Los Angeles last week and during his funeral services, every saloon in the city, closed out of respect to his memory.

It is authoritatively stated in a dispatch from Henderson that Congressman A. O. Stanley will be a candidate for a fourth term. The Second district at last seems to be coming around to a policy that other districts have followed for many years. Now that we have found the right kind of a man, young, able and eloquent, why not keep him in Congress and develop him into a national leader.

Secretary of the Navy Metcalf announced officially that the United States will send a fleet of 20 battle ships to the Pacific Coast next winter, the trip being made around Cape Horn. He says the trip is merely a practice cruise and denies that the Japanese troubles have anything to do with the proposed movement. The fleet will winter in the San Francisco harbor.

Buffalo, N. Y., is going to have a home coming week and all former residents of Buffalo are requested to send their addresses to Jas. W. Greene, 206 White Building, Buffalo, in order that they may receive souvenir invitations to the celebration Sept. 1 to 7.

Whatever else may be said of Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, he certainly does not lack nerve. He is in jail, awaiting a sentence for grafting, but announces that he will be a candidate for a fourth term and seek a vindication.

Decendants of the signers of the Declaration of Independence held a reunion at the Jamestown Exposition. Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York and President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton University, were the principal speakers.

A Correction.

The article in the Hopkinsville Independent, in which it was stated that I would close out my business here and return to Virginia, was premature and misleading. I have not taken any steps to leave Hopkinsville, have not sold my home, nor my business, neither am I closing out my business. The Independent had no authority to make the assertion in their paper of July 3. I have, however, been contemplating the sale of my home and my business, because of greater opportunities offered in business, both in Hopkinsville and elsewhere. We have had a good business here, but on account of my extensive experience in the wholesale business, I feel my individual services are worth more in that capacity than in the retail business.

Bad Start.

The police force was kept busy the first and second days of July, securing 11 runs. Three offenders reached the home plate for adultery, three more were arrested for fornication, one of being drunk, two made home runs for breach of the peace, while one was held up for trying to drive round the diamond faster than the rules allow. Result of game: All the players fined in sums varying from $6 to $22.50. The defeated team contended that the officers were too fast for them and have sworn off from playing the blue-coats any more. Some of them will do work for the city. Umpire Roper is giving perfect of his not holding the violators down to the rules. His assistants are in splendid shape for July and are determined that they will not countenance any "foolishness" during this month.

United States Circuit Court of Appeals Decides Against Injunction.

FLAT TOLL RATE FIXED.

Says No Federal Question is Involved in Case Against City of Louisville.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 3.—The application of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company for an injunction to prevent the city of Louisville from establishing a flat rate for tolls was dismissed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to-day. It was held that no Federal question was involved.

The General Council of Louisville passed an ordinance fixing all telephone rates at the same rate as was fixed in the franchise granted to the Home Telephone Company, so that the Home Company was not affected by the ordinance. The reduction was about one-third off the present rate. The Cumberland Company filed suit in Judge Evans' court to prevent a reduction of rates. Judge Evans, over the demurrer of Judge E. A. Richards, City Attorney, held that the Federal Court had jurisdiction, overruled the demurrer and granted a temporary injunction. Judge Richards appealed to the United States Court of appeals and its decision is a victory for the city. The Cumberland Company will now probably seek to enjoin the city from enforcing the ordinance through the State Courts.

WHITE OR COLORED LABOR

Existing Conditions Demand A Change and Soon

STATE MOVEMENT

Farmers and Others Should Begin to Think at Once.

Now that the handling of tobacco in the different establishments is over, the laboring class, male and female, are looking around for work in the city. They can get plenty to do in the country, but they have a hankering for "metropolitan life." The allurements are too much for them, and they had rather live in town and make half of what they could on the farms than be deprived of the privilege of taking in the different attractions, whatever they may be. Hopkinsville is quite a city to them—what Louisville is to a Hopkinstonian, or New York to a Louisvillean. What they would do if it were not for the tobacco factories and other businesses in the city, that give them employment, is beyond the knowledge of any one. True it is that white people cannot stand to do some of the work the colored people are doing—the labor of the quarry and the heat and odor of the tobacco house, for instance. But the labor of the quarry is a little too much for them the year through, for some of the negroes, and they go to the tobacco handling houses.

The immigration bureau is to send a man to Switzerland to get some of the industrious people to come to this state. There are certain kinds of work that the foreigners could do with satisfaction to our farmers, but they could not, and would not try, to take the negroes' place in the tobacco houses. The work to be done in establishments like those of the Imperial Tobacco Co., the American Snuff Co., Tandy and Fairleigh and others, can only be endured by the Scotch. Like the cotton fields of the South, the work is the negroes' by a decree of nature.

Christian union needs white labor for the simple reason that the colored people will not work more than they can possibly avoid, and when they do work it must be light or they won't tackle it for any length of time. Of course there are some who are faithful and economical, but as a mass it is well known that they are improvident and prone to idleness, the younger generation particularly. We simply are stating facts and do not see things through the eyes of prejudice. If you want to prove that we are wrong, start out to find a cook or washwoman or employ some man to do a few days' work. You will soon be convinced that we are correct.

Such being a true statement of the labor situation in the city, and equally as bad in the country, and now that there is a prospect of improving the labor situation through the immigration bureau of the state, it will soon be up to our farmers, as well as the people in the city, to take the proper course to introduce some of the imported labor in this section of Kentucky. If the people neglect this they may lose the golden opportunity of helping themselves. Everybody admits that there must be a change, and that right soon. We do not want to be accused of wanting to arouse ill feeling between the races—we would much rather see the colored race knuckle down to work and make more than a mere subsistence. In fact, we believe anybody would rather have a working, economical colored people, who have grown up in our midst and understand us—than imported, inexperienced labor, who would have to have two or three years in which to learn our ways and methods of doing things. They might be preferable in the long run, but it is questionable. But the situation is narrowed down to one of two things—more industry on the part of colored people or eventually the importation of white labor. Which will it be?

COMPANY D

Will Leave Monday Night
For Jamestown, 51
Strong.

Everything in Fine Shape
for a Week In Camp.

Next Monday night Company D., under command of Capt. E. W. Clark, will leave for Jamestown. The personnel of the company is of the very best material in the city. For three or four weeks nightly drills have been held and the soldier boys are as near perfect in the manual of arms and evolutions as soldiers get to be, and there is a feeling prevalent that our boys will come home with flying colors.

The company numbers 51, which the limit. They will carry with them 2 cooks and are anticipating the best time of their lives. The commissioned officers of the company are: Capt. E. W. Clark; 1st Lieut., Stanley Bassett; 2d Lieut., Hardy Hadden. Col. Joseph Henry and staff and Maj. E. B. Bassett and staff will go on the same train with Company D.

Capt. Clark last year, at the Henderson encampment, took the prize as the best rifle shot. It is not yet known whether any prizes will be offered for anything at Jamestown. If there is Co. D. is liable to take the lion's share. The bright young fellows, who compose the company will certainly be "Johnny on the spot" for anything that may come up, for the boys are all ambitious and will be reaching out for "for any old thing" of interest or anything now that may bob up. Capt. Clark says he will take out of Hopkinsville the most thoroughly drilled and in every way best equipped company that has ever left Hopkinsville.

Everybody wishes the soldiers a glorious time during the seven days in camp and expects to hear a magnificent report of them.

KENTUCKY HEIRS

The Kentucky Lawyer, Retained to Press Their Interests.

Lexington, Ky., July 5.—Capt. C. C. Calhoun, the Kentucky lawyer who has been so successful in collecting claims of the state against the Federal Government, has been retained by the Kentucky heirs of the famous Baron Springer estate and all the documents pertaining to the case will be turned over to him. It is proposed to hold a meeting some time soon of all of the heirs who can be brought together, and energetic plans will be put on foot to secure the fortune, which is estimated at $88,000,000.

Baron Springer came from Sweden over a century ago and was given a large land grant on part of which now stands the city of Wilmington, Del. He divided up this land and disposed of it under ninety-nine years leases. Baron Springer died many years ago, and these leases have expired. The heirs propose now to recover these lands or to secure indemnity for their use. Among the heirs in Lexington are Mrs. W. R. Frazier, Mrs. Alvin C. Goode, Harry Jones, Miss Hetty Jones and Mrs. W. C. Moore. Other heirs are Miss Ella Miller, of Stanford, and Mrs. Kate Springer, of Harrodsburg.

NOTHING GAINED BY LYING

Maarten Maartens, Dutch Novelist, Illustrates Point by an Amusing Anecdote.

Maarten Maartens, the Dutch novelist, was talking at a magazine office about realistic fiction. "If realism is truth," he said, "then I am for it. In books, as in life, the truth is always best. Lies fail. Lies fail in books as they fail in life. I know a woman who intensely desired to have a good photograph taken of her little son. But in the studio the child bawled as though he were going to be tortured. It was impossible to calm him, impossible to keep him in the chair. For an hour he filled the place with his howls and yells. For an hour he tore up and down the room like an imp."

"Sure, darling," said his mother, "the gentleman isn't going to hurt you. Just smile and keep still a moment, and it will be all over before you know it."

"Yes," roared the youngster. "Yes, I know. That's what you told me at the dentist's."

MELBA'S BEGINNING.

During the years immediately preceding my first and, for me, my most memorable visit to Europe, the late Marquis of Normandy was governor of Victoria. At that time I was regarded in Melbourne as a very good amateur pianist, much in request at private parties, at which I always played, and on very rare occasions also sang. At one of these functions, given at government house, I gave some songs between the piano selections, and the Marchioness of Normandy, in thanking me, said, "Child, some day you will give up the piano for singing, and then you will become famous." That was the simple comment that set me seriously thinking of a career as a singer. I had always felt that I would become a professional in music—pianist, organist, violinist, perhaps, but something in music, at any rate; but from that moment I knew in an irresistible way that I was to be a singer.—Century.

BEST RECREATION.

To some the most restful kind of relaxation is to turn from one form of mental or physical activity to another, bringing into play a new set of faculties or muscles. The man who has spent his working day over law books or ledgers will take up with delight the classics or some branch of natural history or will enter upon the study of languages or literature. There is no doubt that the highest form of recreation is found in such ways, because while they furnish rest and refreshment they at the same time widen one's intellectual range and promote growth in new directions.

MANY CENTENARIANS.

In the German empire, with a population of 55,000,000, there are only 78 persons who are more than 100 years old. In France, with a population of less than 40,000,000, there are 213 persons who have passed their hundredth birthday. Switzerland has no centenarian. Spain, with a population of about 18,000,000, has 410. Serbia had 573 persons who are more than 100 years of age, while Rumania has 1,084 and Bulgaria 3,883. Bulgaria holds the record for old age, having a centenarian for every 100 of its inhabitants.

SAD RAVAGES OF TIME

Circus Man Tells of Remarkable Circumstance in Connection with Accident.

"The late Gov. Higgins," said a New York man, "was talking early one Memorial day, about time's ravages among the poor old veterans of the civil war. All of a sudden he smiled quaintly. He said he was reminded of a thing that happened once in Stanton, the Michigan town where he was in business for some years. He wished that this thing would apply slightly to our veterans, but it wouldn't."

"A circus man told him the story. The man visited Stanton in its early days, and in the midst of his performance a storm arose, the great tent was blown over and 50 people were injured."

"Well, 30 years afterward," said the circus man, "I returned to Stanton with my show. I remembered the accident that had attended my former visit, and I announced that all who had been injured by the fall of the tent would be admitted to the first performance free."

"But alas for time's ravages," the circus man ended, "of all those 30 injured, only 270 had survived."

IGNORANT OF INITIALS.

"One of the strangest things to me about women," said a student of the eternal feminine "is the way women may be associated with one another in church work or clubs and not know each other's initials. I have known church workers who have seen one another every week for years and years who are absolutely ignorant of whether Mrs. Smith is Mrs. A. B., or C. Smith, or whether Miss Jones' first name is Maria or Daisy. Sometimes they say, 'Why, Mrs. Smith is the Mrs. Smith whose husband is a banker, you know,' but they have no knowledge of the banker's initials. I have run across cases where some club members knew only the last name of their club president, and they didn't think it at all necessary that they should know their initials. Men who are together three days soon find out one another's initials, but women seem to think seeking such knowledge savors of unfriendliness."

WANDERING LAKE IN ASIA.

There are several "floating" islands in existence well known to scientists, but the only "wandering" lake ever heard of is Lake Nor, in the Gobi desert, in Asia, which phenomenon was recently accounted for by the fact that the Tarim river, entering the lake from the west, brings down during the period of high water late in summer a great quantity of silt, which has the effect of driving the lake, lying on the level floor of the desert, toward the southeast. But the summer wind, drifting the surface sand and darkening the heavens with dust, blows generally from the northeast, and it, too, tends to drive the lake before it. The combined effect of the urging by the wind and the river is to force the lake southward.

TOO PRONOUNCED A SUCCESS.

"I met Erminie yesterday, and she was awfully unattractive," remarked Edith. "You know she's the girl who married young Wildley to reform him."

"Did she succeed?" inquired Ethel.

"O, she reformed him all right," replied Edith. "That's why she was so unattractive. She thinks he is the most tiresome and uninteresting thing in the world."

HIS ONLY "HAUNT."

Miss Mattie May—In your varied theatrical experience I suppose you've seen life in all the big cities. Now, what is your favorite haunt?

A SLAP BACK.

"So," said Dr. Radley, "you're one of these catapaths, eh?"
"I am, sir," replied Dr. New.
"Ah! and you recommend people to throw physic to the dogs, eh?"
"No, indeed, I'm very fond of dogs."

FIVE BIG CHURCHES

BERRY BIG AS A POTATO

New "Millionaire" Strawberry Is Being Raised.

New York, June 30.—Patrick O'Mara, one of the speakers last night at a dinner of wholesale seed men who have been holding their convention here, caused a stir by announcing New Jersey, which will be known as the "Millionaire Strawberry."

Mr. O'Mara said the new Strawberry will be large as a Burbank potato. He visited the farm in New Jersey, he said, where the new fruit is growing and found that nearly two carloads will be ready for market next season.

HAD BROKEN NO PROMISE

Great Financier Takes Time to Correct Mistake Made by the Zealous Bill Collector.

"Here, sir," said the collector for Tietz & Sweeney, "I want you to settle this bill."

"But," said the astonished and indignant creditor, "I haven't the money to do it with."

"Well, you get it, and do it right now. It's the least you can do."

"I don't have any such optical illusions, my misguided friend. I shall pay that bill when I get paid and completely paid. Neither your boss nor his polite emissary can hurry me one-millionth part of a second."

"But," raged the collector, "didn't you tell 'em 'bout, when you opened your account, that all the collector would have to do would be to present the bill the first of every month? And haven't I been here six times?"

"My dear man, your understanding of such things narrowly escapes being classifiable as human wisdom. Those were my exact words that you have quoted so dramatically. I said all you would have to do would be to present the bill. That was all you had to do. You didn't have to carry any money away with you. You didn't have to collect the bill. All you had to do was to present it. Understand—present it only. May I suggest that I have broken no promise and that you are working overtime?"

Then the great financier stalked moodily away to catch a train—Chicago Daily News.

GLAD TO MEET HIM.

Three young men went into a restaurant the other day and sat down, says the New York Herald. After a period of waiting a supercilious waiter came up and took their order. They were not especially well dressed, and the waiter evidently had decided they didn't look like really money, as he took his own time about serving them, and then neglected them altogether. The young men saw what the status of things was, and determined to give him a lesson. So after the meal, when the waiter laid down the check, the young men placed beside it the exact amount of their bill, took one by one his extended hand and shook it heartily, expressed their pleasure at making his acquaintance and passed out. The expression of the waiter as he stood looking after them was a study worthy of a master painter.

GOOD BEGINNING.

His tongue got into a twist, the color mounted his brow and he was making a bad mess of it when a heavy thought struck him. He would loan her the bicycle. It belonged to his sister and was a drop farm. She could ride while he rented.

"Miss Stanton, No. 1—48c; No. 3, 4c. Here take this wheel—and beautiful morning—smooth boulevard—"

He stopped suddenly! Her face had changed its wincing contour to cold and injured rigidity. That he had greatly displeased her was evident, as the bowed sister and, passing into a byway, walked proudly away.

Like one stunned he stood there immovable. Then his eye dropped to his right hand.

"Horror! He had not only offered her the bicycle, but the pantaloons guards as well!"

Moral—If red lips upset you, wear green goggles.

A PIG AS THE PATRON.

Most Lancashire cyclists are familiar with Winwick, a village on the way between Leigh and Warrington, surrounded by good roads, and no doubt many of these wheelers have been struck with the curious effigy of a pig carved in the tower of Winwick church, says London Tit-Bits.

It is said that when the church was being built a pig moved the foundation stone three times and at last allowed the stone to remain on the spot where the church now stands. An effigy was therefore placed in the church tower. The words "Winwick," uttered with a nasal twang, resemble the grunt of a pig, and this is also said to give the village its name.

A Deadlock.

O you, who hunt the caribou,
I fear a duel will be fought.
Unless you interfere!
Come forward, O you minnows all,
And settle this dispute between
"Doc" Long and "Teddy" R.

Do wolves kill caribou and elk
By biting through the chest?
Are black bears brave or are their hearts
By shrinking four times?
Do rabbits wear their tails or not?
Do mountain lions sing?
O, tell me, ye who know the woods,
Do tiger flies sting?

By jumping over a barbed wire log,
Do zebras feel their stripes?
Do toad-eaters test up or down
Who are gutter-snipes?
O you, who hunt the caribou,
Do you doubt the size
From lips all covered over with rouge?
Oh, can you tell me this?

Come, all you hunters of the wild,
Your expert knowledge bring
Using affidavits from the wolves
That they have done this thing!
Rub up your lore, rehearse your yarns
About the lynx and "bar."
And settle this dispute between
"Doc" Long and "Teddy" R.

A Morning Episode.

It was Sunday morning in the suburbs. The young man had been awakened by a quarrel in the sparrow family that lived in the cornice of his flat-building.

Because he could not woo Moeppus again, he got up, dressed and, striding his sister's bicycle, started for the park.

"Rip! Rip! Rip! Rip!"
A city dog hurried out of the yard in time to see a young chap take a header into the sweet-brier bushes that fringed the walk.

He had forgotten to put on pantaloons-guards and the gear had cut a liberal moulth from the bottom of his left trousers-leg, throwing him headlong.

He swore softly as he dug around in the woodshed for the guards, but under the influence of morning ozone he recovered his spirits and pedaled along the boulevard buoyantly.

The air was redolent of soft, subtle flavors that titillated the olfactory nerve and tingled delightfully in the lungs. Lilacs, violets, sweet-shrub buds, apple blossoms—all the odoriferous galaxy of spring aromatics—exhaled their sweet-scented, balmy scents to charm the wayfarer.

Arriving at the park, he rolled along peacefully, so lost in a reverie of enjoyment that he almost ran into a decidedly pretty young woman whose shrill scream of fright brought him back to himself and his surroundings with a jolt.

"Why, Mr. Brown! To think it is you who would thus ruthlessly ride over me with your juggernaut!"

She looked at him reproachfully with mischief in her snapping eyes.

Her lips were tantalizingly like ripe cherries and had played havoc with his composure on equal grounds ere this—and now she was actually deploring upon his shattered forces with her eyes!

His tongue got into a twist, the color mounted his brow and he was making a bad mess of it when a heavy thought struck him. He would loan her the bicycle. It belonged to his sister and was a drop farm. She could ride while he rented.

"Miss Stanton, No. 1—48c; No. 3, 4c. Here take this wheel—and beautiful morning—smooth boulevard—"

He stopped suddenly! Her face had changed its wincing contour to cold and injured rigidity. That he had greatly displeased her was evident, as the bowed sister and, passing into a byway, walked proudly away.

Like one stunned he stood there immovable. Then his eye dropped to his right hand.

"Horror! He had not only offered her the bicycle, but the pantaloons guards as well!"

Dischords.

If silence is golden, that accounts for some people being broke all the time.

Crying is a good thing for any woman who feels like it.
Solomon may have been wise, but the idea of him having so many wives is damnable evidence.

When a man has passed forty, he should never try to learn over again what he knows.

There is a girl is thirty, who is a woman who smiles. After that she would be to show things.

These spiritless spines are annoying when you have the money to build a new house and cannot spend it on account of the weather.
